To obtain an ID, you must first register

Obtain or Modify an ID Number

You need a valid ID number before performing any hazardous waste activity.

To obtain or modify an ID number, you must use the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) online application myRCRAid - which allows you to apply for and obtain an ID electronically per the following process:

1. Register as a RCRAInfo Industry User (follow the link in Key Actions below).
2. If your electronic signature is not authorized automatically via the online process, MassDEP will approve your electronic signature following receipt of a signed hardcopy agreement. If you have questions about this process, see: Important Electronic Signature Agreement \(ESA\) Details
3. Login at RCRAInfo, access myRCRAID, and apply for an EPA ID by submitting a Site Identification Form electronically.
4. The agency reviews your application, either approving it or asking you to make corrections and submit it again.
5. Once approved, MassDEP issues your EPA ID through RCRAInfo and you are authorized to proceed with regulated hazardous waste activities.

See the detailed instructions and the FAQ in Additional Resources below to learn more.
